

POSITION ANNOUNCEMENT

The position serves the Division of Science and Research at the West Virginia Higher Education Policy Commission (Commission) whose offices are located at 1018 Kanawha Boulevard, East, Charleston, West Virginia.

Position Title Education, Outreach and Diversity Manager

Classification Grant funded, Non-Classified, Exempt, Benefits Eligible

Date April 17, 2015

Overview. The Division of Science and Research is seeking a full-time Education, Outreach and Diversity (EOD) Manager for academic research administration and science education. As part of the State of West Virginia's growing emphasis on university-based research, this individual will assist in coordination and administrative functions of the Division.

Duties and responsibilities. Under the general oversight of the Director of Science and Research, the EOD Manager is responsible for education, outreach and diversity programs associated with the Division's grants; assists with analysis and management of the Research Challenge fund and the Experimental Program to Stimulate Competitive Research (EPSCoR) as well as program implementation, evaluation and special projects; assists in managing other research program activities as assigned; develops progress reports; prepares communications to the Science and Research Council, the Higher Education Policy Commission and other audiences; and assists in the preparation of infrastructure proposals to the National Science Foundation (NSF) which may include initial concept, writing, editing, budget preparation and management, both pre- and post-award.

Education and experience requirements. A doctoral degree in science education or a similar field from an accredited college or university and at least one year of science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM) education research experience is required. Experience in academic research or research program implementation is desirable, but a strong interest in administration of research is most important. Federal grant experience is also desired. Strong analytical and communication skills, as well as excellent writing abilities are required.

The successful candidate must possess basic knowledge of grants management; the ability to communicate effectively with grantees; the ability to establish good working relationships with higher education peers, public officials, the general public and representatives from other programs, agencies, and departments is important.

Salary. Commensurate with experience.

Closing date. Applications will be accepted until position is filled. Review of applications will begin Friday, May 22, 2015. Anticipated start date is August 3, 2015.

Application process. Qualified candidates should submit a letter of interest, a current resume, a writing sample and the names, titles, phone numbers and e-mail addresses for three professional references. Finalist candidates are subject to employment and credential verification, reference and background checks. Submit all information electronically via e-mail with "Education, Outreach and Diversity Manager" in the subject line to: Ms. Vickie Hairston, Human Resources Representative, Sr. at hepc.hr@hepc.wvnet.edu.
